MEDICAL.

THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,
623 KEARNEY STREET COR. COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Fits. Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

R. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.
The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in finding out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.
How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence or a virus absorbed into the system! Look at the emaciated and disfigured faces, broken-down constitutions disqualifying for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these terrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are treated for and cured before it be too late. Go confidentially to DR. GIBBON, a physician who makes private diseases his especial study, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. Important to those who are afflicted or to those interested in the welfare of their friends. Beware of the many pretended doctors who infest the cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.
Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse, solitary vice or depraved sexual habits, practiced by the youth of both sexes to an unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures: sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confusion of ideas, loss of intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific treatment of this disease which never fails to effect a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will forfeit Five Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of the above by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,
Those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, and delay to obtain immediate relief.
DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Caution to the Unfortunate.
Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates trap the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, who are to be found in the daily and weekly papers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trade. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus diplomas, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Cured at Home.
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Postoffice Box 1,957. REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.
Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. jy6dly

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.)

Great Demonstration of the Strikers.

HAZLETON, Pa., May 10.—The Miners and Labor Benevolent Association had its annual parade here to-day. The demonstration was a success, the entire Lehigh region being represented. There were 3,644 persons in the procession. Everything passed off quietly and there have been no disturbances. The men insist that they can hold out for several months.

Life and Property Threatened.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 10.—To-day 300 men from Locust Gap went to Hickory ridge and Lancaster collieries and compelled the miners to stop work, giving them to understand that if they caught them at work again they would come down and kill the whole party at work and burn the breaker. This is the first open threat to take life and burn coal property since the strike commenced. After the above threats had been made a private consultation was held, and the men declared they would stick to the Miners' Union and fight it out, after which the mob scattered in various directions.

Miners go to Work Armed.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 11.—About thirty men went to work in Hutchinson's mine this morning. They marched from their houses in a body and were armed with rifles and revolvers. A crowd of men, women and boys followed them with threats and imprecations and were only deterred from violence by the weapons of the workmen. The women were particularly bitter with invectives, and at one point in the march nearly precipitated a conflict. Threats were made to have a crowd this evening when the men come out of the mine large enough to mob them. Through fear the authorities were called upon this morning by Hutchinson for protection, and a posse is now being raised to go to Kingston this afternoon.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., May 11.—H. G. Fisher of Fisher Bros. & Miller and John Whitehead, of Whitehead & Co., respective owners of the Excelsior and Ocean collieries in the Clearfield coal region left here this morning with a large force of workmen thoroughly equipped and provisioned and on reaching the collieries will resume shipping. A large force was taken up by other parties yesterday, but many were intimidated and returned.

Fatal Result of a Newspaper Quarrel.

LEAVENWORTH, Kansas, last night William Embry, editor of the Appeal, shot and fatally wounded Colonel D. R. Anthony, editor of the Times. There was a newspaper quarrel between them over matters connected with the Typographical Union. Last night they met in the entrance of the opera house and began a quarrel, which culminated in Anthony striking Embry in the face and the latter firing three shots from a revolver at Anthony, two of which took effect. The affair produced intense excitement, the opera house being crowded with people witnessing Janauschek's rendition of Deborah. Embry was arrested and committed to jail. Colonel Anthony was postmaster of Leavenworth and is a brother of Susan B. Anthony.

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., May 11.—The excitement about the attempted assassination of Col. D. R. Anthony, is still most intense. The critical condition of Anthony still continues. He was removed from the Opera House at 10 A. M. to his residence. He has been conscious all day and conversed freely with his friends. Physicians are divided in opinion as to the probable result. It seems to be the general belief, however, that his death is only a matter of time. He may survive a day and may die in a few hours. Embry the assassin is in jail awaiting the result of Anthony's wounds. Dow, supposed to be an accomplice, was released on his personal recognizance.

The Troops Disbanded.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 11.—Gen. Osborne returned this afternoon with all the Ninth regiment but three companies which will be retained at Hazleton some days longer. Gen. # ANOTHER WHISKY RING.

Gigantic Frauds on the Internal Revenue Unearthed

Distilleries Seized in Chicago, St. Louis and Milwaukee

Revenue Officers Connive in the Frauds with the Distillers

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Investigations recently made under direction of the secretary of the treasury and commissioner of internal revenue, have resulted in the discovery of a well organized and formidable ring which has been successfully operating for some time in the perpetration of frauds on the revenue in connection with distilleries in the West. The ring had its principal headquarters in St. Louis, Chicago and Milwaukee and its agents had bought up a number of internal revenue gaugers and storekeepers in these districts who have now been dismissed. It is estimated at the department that a number of officers of much higher rank will be relieved soon for participation in these frauds, for neglect of duty in not preventing or discovering them. It is intimated that several internal revenue collectors and at least two supervisors in western districts will be speedily superseded.

The Seizures at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, May 10.—A party of officers under charge of Supervisor Hendricks and Capt. Brooks of the secret service division of the treasury department, arrived here to-day and entered upon the work of seizing distilleries in connection with the collector of the district. The rectifying establishments of A. Schoenfeld and Rindskopf, the distilleries of O'Neil, Kinnickinnick and the distilling company of J. Rindskopf, Chas. Grace and I. Bergenthal were placed in charge of keepers. It is understood that all the distilleries in the district will be seized, with two exceptions. The character of the evidence upon which the seizures are made is not disclosed.

Seizures at Chicago and St. Louis.

CHICAGO, May 11.—Revenue officers have taken possession of the distilleries and rectifying establishments of Gollison & Eastman, Roelle, Yourker & Co., G. G. Russel, H. R. Mason, Byron Sawyer and the Lake Shore Co. of this city, on the charge of being engaged in the recently discovered frauds on revenue. It is rumored that other seizures will be made on the establishments of Rutdich, Bingham Bros., John Bushby, B. and F. T. G. Feders, Quinlan Bros. and J. J. Bonker in St. Louis.

How the Frauds were Discovered.

A Washington special says the work of unearthing gigantic frauds in the whisky trade with above seizures, began in St. Louis under the direct supervision of Mr. G. W. Whibrick, editor of the St. Louis Democrat, who having satisfied himself of the existence of a formidable whisky ring including St. Louis, Chicago and Milwaukee, obtained authority to ferret them out and with Martin Colony, commercial editor of the Democrat, succeeded fully in doing so. It is said that in St. Louis alone fifty thousand barrels of whisky escaped tax through the connivance of revenue officials with distillers and rectifiers and the amount out of which the Government has been defrauded is placed at $1,200,000, of this amount the dishonest revenue officials received about forty per cent.

The Modus Operandi of the Swindle.

The mode of swindling comprised the duplicate use of stamps, refilling of barrels regularly stamped and various other devices, the successful issue of which depended upon the connivance of revenue officials of various grades.

Cause of the Removal of Commissioner Douglas.

A Washington special says the discovery of these frauds is the real reason for the displacement of Commissioner Douglas, although he was in no manner implicated in them, but his confidence in his system of supposed check of frauds, led him to unconsciously aid in the schemes of the various rings. There is great excitement among the distilleries and rectifiers in the West, and numerous prosecutions will be commenced at once.

Cabinet Session on the Whisky Frauds.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The Cabinet is in session and will, it is thought, consider changes in the internal revenue department in connection with the great whisky frauds just made public.

Clearing out of Corrupt Revenue Officials.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Commissioner Douglass to-day telegraphed to the various supervisors who are superintending the seizing of illicit stills to send the names of all revenue officers employed at any establishment seized that they may be immediately dismissed and reported for prosecution to the several U. S. District Attorneys, in every case where there is evidence of collusion. It is said at the internal revenue office to-day that there is not yet sufficient evidence before the department to base action concerning certain officials who must have had some knowledge of the fraudulent transactions or else have been grossly negligent to permit them to be carried on, and thus far no removals other than gaugers and storekeepers mentioned have been made. Additional instructions have been sent to the collectors of the various points East and West where the department is satisfied that fraudulent whisky has been shipped to seize all such, and telegrams have been received from several places announcing seizure, the heaviest being the establishment of Bingham & Co. at Evansville, Ind., and others were ordered at Pekin, Ill., Cincinnati and elsewhere. The secretary to-day directed legal steps to be taken at all places where frauds are discovered and arrests to be made where the evidence is sufficient to justify them. Officers have already ascertained that great quantities of this crooked whisky have been distributed throughout the country, especially in the South, but the form of the packages in which they were originally shipped is changed in many instances and it will now be impossible to detect much of it.

Wm. S. King Indicted for Perjury—Other Indictments.

The grand jury came into court to-day to present true bills against Wm. S. King, for perjury, in having on the 2d February 1874 sworn before the committee of Congress that he had never received a dollar to assist in procuring an appropriation for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company; Jerome J. Himes, four cases for offering bribes to government officers to influence their action in mail contracts; R. B. Gill, G. A. Thompson, B. T. Luckett and F. S. Lagenby for obtaining warrants by false pretences and conspiracy to defraud, and J. H. Thompson for forgery. Harrington, counsel for King, was present, and said King would appear when called on and asked that no bench warrant be issued in his case. The court assented.

CHICAGO, May 11.—Nothing new in regard to the rectifying and distilling establishments seized by the revenue officials and no further seizures have been made. Officers who made the seizures report having made a complete list of all revenue officers stationed at the establishments taken possession of and forwarded to the commissioner of internal revenue at Washington.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Increased Mail Service for Oregon.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—At the instance of Senator Mitchell the postal service has been increased on routes in Oregon as follows: From The Dalles to Canyon City, from weekly to semi-weekly; Ashland to Linkville, weekly to tri-weekly.

Award for Furnishing the Portland Custom House.

The contract for furnishing the new postoffice and court house at Portland, has been awarded to Isaac Sinsheimer.

Wheat Prospects Slim.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—During the past week the condition of winter wheat in [illegible] counties has been reported to the department of agriculture. About 600 counties of the valleys of Ohio and Missouri are represented, which last year produced 70,000,000 bushels, or 60 per cent of the product of seven States from Ohio to Kansas. The average condition of these states is 63 per cent of a full crop if no improvement, indicating only five eighths of a full crop if no improvement occurs. In Kentucky 70 per cent, Ohio [illegible], Michigan 61, Indiana 70, Illinois 63, Missouri 53, Kansas [illegible], though only [illegible] counties in the latter State are represented. The condition is better in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia, though below an average. A few wheat counties in New York make extremely unfavorable returns. The proportion to be replanted in other crops averages 11 per cent in the West or 1,000,000 acres in a breadth of 9,000,000 acres seeded.

Injury to Crops in Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—The Press this morning says in a review of the reports from all parts of Pennsylvania: Owing to the severe frost and ice, during much of the existing wheat crop has been killed, and the season delayed eight or ten weeks; careful inquiries lead to the belief that not over half a crop will be gathered and even this amount depends on a continuance of dry weather.

Pacific Mail Lobby Suits.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Among the more important cases on the calendar of the United States circuit court, May term, are those which grew out of the Pacific Mail subsidy: The Pacific Mail S. S. Co. vs. W. B. Shaw for $1,000, the same vs. J. G. Barrett for $10,000, the same vs. H. G. Hunt for $1,000. The cases of the same company vs. Don Platt, Amos B. Corwine, R. C. Parrish, J. H. Herry and Chas. Abert have not been matured.

The U. P. R. R. Case.

Dispatches indicate that the U. P. R. R. case will probably be decided by the court of claims on Monday. The right of the railroad to compensation for its services to the Government is not in dispute. The question is whether payment shall be made now or be withheld till the claims of the Government against the railroad company have been further litigated. Whatever the court of claims may decide the cases will be appealed to the supreme court.

Miss Crane one of the Victims.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Miss Caroline M. Crane of this city, one of those lost by the Schiller disaster, was a niece of the wife of Senator Edmunds of Vermont, with whom she passed the winter in this city. She was a highly accomplished young lady and was on her way to Europe to spend two years with the family of Mr. [illegible] in Italy.

Bullion Refinery for the S. F. Mint.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Prof. [illegible] Rogers of the University of Pennsylvania has left for San Francisco to superintend the construction of an extensive refinery in the mint there. It is expected the new refinery will be completed and in readiness for operation in about 90 days.

THE TILTON-BEECHER CASE.

NEW YORK, May 10.—After recess in the Beecher trial, Fullerton presented the letter referred to by Bell in his testimony this morning, that had been sent Fullerton by Bell. The letter was dated December 1, 1870, and asked Bell to step up to No. [illegible] as the writer wanted to see him on important business. It was signed H. W. B.

Evarts continued his argument against the admission of Robinson's testimony as to a conversation with Mrs. Moulton after her interview with Beecher in June 1873.

Pryor being absent, Fullerton argued in favor of admitting the testimony, saying the object was to disprove the assertion made by Tracy in his opening address that Mrs. Moulton's account of the interview with Beecher of June 2 was made up for her by her husband, and Beecher testified to that effect in his testimony. After further argument the judge decided the evidence could not be admitted, and said the real basis of the latter was laid in the allegation in the opening of defendant's counsel and if not supported should not have been made. It didn't seem to be entitled to respect, being called an unhappy allegation.

Beach excepted to the judge's ruling, and said he offered the testimony of

Mrs. Sarah Eddy,

In the same relation as that of Robinson. Evarts contended the other side could not prove anything said by Mrs. Moulton before the trial. Mrs. Eddy then testified to knowing Beecher and meeting him on the steps of Moulton's house early on the morning of June 2d, 1873. She was going into the house and he was coming out. He did not salute her. Mrs. Moulton opened the door for her without ringing. Mrs. Moulton seemed greatly agitated and witness spoke to her about it.

Evarts objected to this.

Fullerton offered to give the conversation between Mrs. Moulton and witness, but as it was covered by the judge's previous ruling it was not admitted.

Cross-examined by Evarts—Witness testified her husband was a book keeper for Woodruff & Robinson. She thought she called at Moulton's that day at 11 o'clock. Did not think Mrs. Moulton was confined to the house by sickness at the time.

Mrs. Emma R. Moulton

Was then recalled and corroborated Mrs. Eddy's testimony as to calling on the day of the interview with Beecher.

Fullerton announced this was all he had to ask about Mrs. Eddy, but will have to recall her at a future point of the proceedings.

Cross-examined by Evarts—Mrs. Moulton said Mrs. Eddy called on her the 2d of June 1873. She repeated to her the conversation with Beecher that day.

Fred W. Mitchell,

Formerly book keeper for Woodhull & Claflin, was the next witness, but his testimony was unimportant.

Mary Catherine McDonald,

A servant in Tilton's family for many years, was then sworn and testified: I reside at present with Mr. Tilton. I did not stay there altogether but came and went when I pleased. I did this ever since he has been married. The last three or four years have been there altogether except three or four weeks. Generally went to his parents in the summer at Keyport, N. J. I was at Tilton's when Mrs. Tilton went to Monticello. It was in July four years ago this summer. Think she went there more than once. I have a letter written me by Mrs. T. from Monticello, but it is at Keyport. I went down to Keyport on the following Tuesday, I think. When I left Tilton's that day Mr. Greeley was not there, but he expected him. I assisted the day I left in making arrangements for Mr. Greeley. Tilton gave Bessie Turner money to go to Keyport. I don't know when she went, but she did not come to Keyport that day. She left the house at 10 or 11 o'clock. Tilton gave her either a two or three dollar bill.

The court adjourned.

NEW YORK, May 11.—In the Beecher trial this morning the examination of

Kate McDonald

Was continued. She testified that she thought Bessie Turner went to Keyport on Tuesday. She left Tilton's about noon on Monday. Witness stayed at Keyport four or five weeks. Bessie returned about a week before she thought Mrs. Tilton returned from Monticello. When Bessie returned the folding doors on the second floor were generally open. Never saw them locked. When closed to, a part did not come together.

Cross-examined—She said she had lived in Tilton's family for 15 years. Lived with Theo. Tilton's family in Keyport. Came to his house 10 or 12 years ago. Since have gone back and forth between the places. Was at Tilton's when Ralph was born in June '68, but wasn't there long before that. Tilton paid me my wages all of the year 1869, although I wasn't there all the time. I never left Tilton's family altogether and was living there when Mrs. Tilton went away. I was on intimate and confidential terms with the family when I was down at Keyport. Was treated as one of the family. Saw Tilton give Bessie money to go to Keyport. There are two front rooms connected by folding doors on the second floor of Tilton's house.

Redirect Examination—Ralph was about 4 years old when Mrs. Tilton went to Monticello.

Theo. Tilton

Was then recalled. He testified he never was at Mrs. Woodhull's house while she lived in Irving Place. Never said to Mrs. Woodhull at any time or in any place, referring to the scandal, "Vickey, you publish this and you are a made woman." Never called Blood aside in his Broad street office and talked to him about the scandal. He never said to me he wouldn't have anything to do with the publication. Haven't spoken to Blood since April 1872. Never was in the office in which the scandal article was written. Was never present when any proof slips of that article were shown. Never saw the slip. Witness here read from a list the places in which he had lectured outside of Brooklyn from Oct. 3, 1871, to Nov. 3, 18[illegible]. In answer to Morris witness said that on April 18, 1872, he terminated his acquaintance with Woodhull. Witness continued: He began his political campaign on July 22, 1872, at Baltimore, the period when Woodby testified that witness was in his office. No conversation was ever had about Beecher's congregation paying $100,000 to suppress the publication of the scandal. On the 4th of July 1872 he didn't stay at Mrs. Woodhull's, but was at his own house. This was the day when he was confined to his house by illness. He never slept on a sofa bed at Mrs. Woodhull's, but has at his own house. Mrs. Giles never waited on Mrs. Woodhull and witness when they were at a chicken and champagne supper. He never saw champagne in that house. Mrs. Woodhull and he were never served with refreshments in her bedroom. He never rode out with her in a phaeton with a white horse. Mrs. Woodhull never said to him that Beecher had better preside at the Steinway Hall meeting or she would make it hotter for him than hell was below. Was never in her office at gaslight. Never went to Moulton's in a carriage with Woodhull. Conkey never was asked by me to join me in the Golden Age. Declined to take Conkey in the paper when he was requested to do so. Became acquainted with Mrs. Palmer about three months after the Golden Age was started at Mrs. Woodhull's office. It was impossible she could have heard the conversation about starting this paper, as it was started before he became acquainted with her. The slips of the scandal were never shown him in Woodhull's office in the presence of Mrs. Palmer in the spring of 1872 or at any other time. At the time she testified he was shown the slips he was somewhere between the Ohio river and the Mississippi. Witness was asked to name the precise place where he was six weeks before the 1st of May, the date fixed by Mrs. Palmer for the occurrence referred to by her. Evarts objected. After a long argument the question was [illegible].

Witness then testified in contradiction of the testimony that he was with Mrs. Woodhull in the Roussell procession. At the interview in Moulton's study in the early part of November 1871, when Woodruff and Tracy were present, he had not written the True Story or any part of it. It was not written in December. I recollect by my going to Dr. Storrs about it at the time. I never recovered the manuscript nor began to read it at that interview; never heard the letter of contrition spoken of by Moulton at that interview as a mere memorandum.

Evarts objected to this last statement on the ground that according to Tracy's evidence Tilton was not present when the memoranda or letter of contrition was spoken of. A long argument ensued between counsel on the subject and the testimony of Tracy was hunted up and read.

The court finally admitted an answer of witness. Witness then testified that Moulton did not say it was a memoranda or notes of conversation he had with Beecher nor anything to that effect. Witness was then asked if Tracy said to him last summer that if he made the charge of adultery against Beecher, he, Tracy, would not feel his bond binding on him and would be relieved from his vow to witness.

This was objected to by Evarts, who asked for time to look over Tracy's testimony. Meantime the hour for recess arrived and the court arose.

Morris to Tilton—I was asking you a question before recess in regard to Tracy's notification to you of his intention on feeling himself at liberty to act for Beecher. I have his evidence before me and will read it and call your attention to it. Speaking of the interview wherein it occurred, [Tracy] thought it occurred at the club—the Brooklyn Club—may have been at my office frequently, and was also in the habit of dropping in at the club where I was taking lunch or at dinner, and I met him in the street often when we had conversation.

Question—What passed between you, how was the matter introduced referring to the conversation in 1873? Answer—I said to him, Tilton, as long as you adhere to the case that you then stated to me I shall adhere to the promise I made you, but desire to say to you that when you change your case against Beecher, if you ever do, and state a different case from what you stated to me, I shall not regard my promise then made as binding on me.

Q.—Did any conversation of that kind ever occur between you and him prior to your meeting the committee? A.—No sir, he never gave me any such notification.

Q.—You have related what occurred before the committee and the Brooklyn Club, or his office, or anywhere else, did he say that prior to that time? A.—Never sir, nothing. I read Beecher the same paper I read to Harrison. The first sentence of Storrs' document relating to Beecher asking Mrs. Tilton to become a wife to him with all the name ... is incorporated in the statement I read to Beecher.

Q.—I read to you a brief statement of Mrs. Ovington and ask a question in regard to it. In an interview you had with her she was asked this question: What was said or done on that subject? It was necessary to refer to what preceded it because the answer refers to the subject when he spoke of the [illegible]. I think it was, he said, "Elizabeth will lie for me, she will tell any number of lies to clear me." He said, "Even if I were on trial for the Nathan murder and she had seen me commit the act, do you think if she was called on to testify she would tell the truth and have me convicted?" He said, "No, she will not." Do you remember anything of that kind of language? A.—Well, sir, I should not know how to answer that, because it has passed from my mind. Now that you read it it [illegible].

Q.—She spoke about Mrs. Tilton having let out the only cool room she had at the house and you using some expression of this kind: Why does Beecher let her? Why don't he take care of her? Explain that. A.—I recollect a meeting of that kind. The circumstances were these: I was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ovington in their back piazza and chanced to make a remark to the effect that I was sorry the piazza of my house was not in the back part instead of the front. My piazza is actually of no value to my family. In order to use it they must expose themselves to the street, whereas that of Mrs. Ovington's could be enjoyed in comfort and the family maintain their privacy. I think Mrs. Ovington remarked about my house being cool and comfortable in summer because of Gallatin place opening in front of it. I remarked that it was true, but I was very sorry that Mrs. Tilton had been compelled to yield up the pleasantest and coolest room in the house, a second story front room, to Mrs. and Mr. Taylor, who then occupied it, and added in a sarcastic tone: This is one of the consequences of this scandal. Unless I defend myself against the accusations brought against me I presume I shall go to complete ruin. Some such conversation as that. When Moulton lived in Clinton street Beecher's portrait was in my house. I knew Tilton and I have [illegible], but never had a conversation with Beecher in reference to Tilton, or said to Beecher that I knew him (Tilton) to be a dissolute man having loose habits.

Beach offered to show that at the time this alleged conversation was said to have taken place witness did not know the facts concerning this Tilton. They had not then transpired, but it was objected to by Evarts and a long discussion followed between counsel. At the time the alleged conversation is said to have taken place with Beecher, I knew such a person, but didn't know his character.

Miss Turner spoke of an interview you had with her up stairs in which you referred to the red lounge.

A consultation was held among the counsel and the question withdrawn.

Question. Have you read her account of her interview as given in evidence? Answer. I have heard it read.

Q. Did any such interview as she relates take place between you and her? A. No sir.

Q. An interview in which she spoke of the red lounge and also an interview on page 480—I will call your attention to both interviews—do you recollect them as she told them? (Morris read from the testimony of Bessie Turner in regard to the red lounge conversation.) Did any such conversation occur? A. Never had with her at any time in any place any conversation in regard to the criminal relations of Beecher and Mrs. Tilton or on any subject related thereto.

Q. Do you recollect Bessie Turner coming into the room while you and your wife were having a conversation on the subject? Did she come in unobserved? A. Yes sir.

Q.—No other conversation whatever on that subject between her and you and your wife occurred?

Evarts—Miss Turner has given no testimony as being absent or ordered from the room.

Q.—Miss Turner says, When he saw me he ordered me saying, Damn you, get out. Did anything of that kind occur? A.—No sir, nothing of that kind occurred.

Q.—Now I ask you the question again whether at that interview when you observed Miss Turner in the room any conversation of that kind occurred? A.—No sir.

Morris—reading from Miss Turner's testimony, where she says she heard Tilton talking angrily with his wife—did anything of that kind occur? A.—No, sir, and I never struck her, as she says I did. I never treated her but with kindness. None of the subsequent conversation which Bessie Turner swears to took place. I never said to her, Elizabeth is so used to being fondled she judges other persons by herself. Never told her that I had seen Beecher and Mrs. Tilton have sexual intercourse on the red lounge.

Q.—She says after that you repeated this upstairs. Did you ask her upstairs and repeat any conversation to her? A.—No sir.

Q.—Will you describe the situation of the rooms in your house? Witness described the situation of the rooms.

Q.—Which rooms were fitted up for Greeley? A.—The two front rooms.

Q.—Where was Bessie Turner's room when she says you took her from bed? A.—She says she occupied the room next to mine. I occupied the room next to Greeley's room.

Q.—Those folding doors—was there ever lock to them? A.—I never saw them locked since I have been in the house.

Q.—Are they in the same condition now as they were when Greeley was there? A.—I presume they are. The original paint is on the door and the paint over the lock hasn't ever been thrust aside by a bolt being turned.

Q.—How do you know Miss Turner was at Keyport? A.—From my correspondence and letters received. Miss McDonald and Miss Turner left before Greeley came to my house. Miss Turner and Miss McDonald left for Keyport Monday. Greeley arrived at my house on Tuesday. Bessie Turner was not in my house for one moment during Greeley's visit. He left my house three weeks before Bessie Turner returned from Keyport.

Q.—Did you dictate any letters to Miss Turner? A.—I did not dictate or suggest any.

Q.—Did you ever say to Oliver Johnson that you had been in bed with a woman and she had remained virtuous? A.—Nothing of the sort.

Q.—Did Beecher ever sit on your knee after May 1871? A.—I heard Beecher's description of that occurrence. It took place about ten years ago. We had been having a discussion about a sentence in a little work I had written, and that was the way it ended. No such familiarity ever marked our acquaintance after the trouble came to our house.

Q.—At the time of the arbitration did you hear anything said by either arbitrators about turning the papers? A.—I did not.

Q.—Was anything said before them in your presence concerning your difficulties with Beecher? A.—Don't recall anything of the kind that was said on the subject. Nothing that was between me and Mr. Beecher was in any sense referred to in the arbitration.

Q.—Can you account for the fact that the tripartite agreement is dated April 2d and the first draft of the covenant was made by Wilkeson April 2d? A.—Changes in its terms were made by me and Bowen, and then it was handed back to Wilkeson to have it engrossed, and in a few days after he made a clean copy, dated and all.

Q.—I will call attention to an interview which Wilkeson related of your going to his office and stating that Beecher had been taken care of and Bowen had been taken care of, but your money had not been paid. Did such interview ever take place?

Evarts objected, but was overruled. Witness was allowed to answer to correct any matters of interview. He testified to the interview with Wilkeson, that he was angry and he said he wanted his portion of the covenant before he signed, but did not use expressions testified to by Wilkeson and [illegible] by counsel. Witness denied Wil[illegible] destroyed. He admitted the interview at the Fifth Avenue House, Washington, but denied that he made remarks to him about Mrs. Tilton that Wilkeson testifies to. He never told him the utmost Beecher ever did was to address improper words to Mrs. Tilton. This ended the examination and there was no cross examination.

Beach announced that Moulton would be called next and court adjourned.

Reception of the Czar at Berlin.

BERLIN, May 10.—The Czar arrived here to-day and was received at the railway station by Emperor William and Princes of the Emperor's family, Gens. Von Moltke, Manteuffel and other distinguished personages. The Emperor's greeting was exceedingly cordial. An immense crowd gathered around the station and cheered enthusiastically. The city is decorated with flags. The Czar, accompanied by Prince Gortschakoff, has visited Prince Bismarck.

The Situation in Europe.

LONDON, May 10.—This morning's Telegraph, in an editorial on the meeting of the Emperors of Russia and Germany to-day, says it is impossible to conceal the truth of the continental situation, and fears this morning are of the gravest aspect. If we were to say the question of the future repose of Europe may be practically solved before 48 hours have passed, we would scarcely go beyond the facts. The tendency at this hour is decidedly pacific. Other city journals likewise comment on the meeting, but the thought of war is generally discredited. It is reported from Paris that the French Government positively contradicts the assertion that Germany recently made representation of a hostile tendency.

The same dispatch contains a statement, believed to be semi-official, that no cause of conflict exists between Germany and France, and advices from all the capitals of Europe are of the same tenor, that pacific ideas are everywhere in the ascendency.

The Czar is Decidedly for Peace.

LONDON, May 10.—The Times in its leading editorial says: We believe the Czar is resolved to hold most decided language in favor of the maintenance of peace and the use of every effort to put a stop to the present alarm. A few days will probably bring forth official disclaimers of the recent reports. It is possible it will be said that there is nothing to justify French apprehensions, but there should be no mistake on this point. As long as the present conditions remain there must be uneasiness, even dangers. An unforeseen incident or an outburst of passion may precipitate a rupture. The Czar is unable to guarantee that France will not attack Germany within a few years. Great armaments are a mutual menace. While they exist it is beyond the power of even imperial peacemakers to allay apprehensions.

The Feeling in Paris more Hopeful.

PARIS, May 11.—The feeling here is more hopeful. [illegible] says the Czar intends to propose a general disarming, and Germany will support the proposition.

Progress of Legislation to Suppress Religious Orders.

The bill for the suppression of religious orders passed to its third reading to-day in the lower house.

Conspiracy against Bismarck and Falck.

The Berlin Post says there are reasons to suspect that certain Polish priests have conspired against the lives of Prince Bismarck and Dr. Falck, minister of ecclesiastical affairs, and that three persons whose names are already known to the police were hired to carry out the plot.

Arrest of the Conspirator.

BERLIN, May 11.—The Provincial Press and Borse Courier report that the police procured the arrest abroad of the principal conspirator in the plot to assassinate Bismarck and Falck. The Gazette says the prisoner is a relative of Archbishop Ledochowski. The Press states that he is related to M. Dunning, Ledochowski's predecessor. Both journals assert that the plot included the assassination of the Emperor.

The lower house has passed a bill abrogating three clauses of the constitution.

A False Rumor.

BERLIN, May 11.—The rumor that Germany and Russia intend to address a representation to France in relation to armament is false.

LONDON, May 11.—A special to the Standard from Berlin says Bismarck and Gortschakoff will decide during the Czar's visit whether Germany should answer the last Belgian note directly or appeal to the guaranteeing powers.

The recent war like rumors are declared to be the work of stock jobbers.

Inquest on Victims of the Schiller Disaster.

LONDON, May 10.—An inquest was held to-day at St. Mary's on twenty bodies from the steamship Schiller. Hillers, first officer of the Schiller, testified that at the time the vessel struck Capt. Thomas and another officer were on the bridge, two men were looking out forward and two others were on the bridge with the Captain. The jury rendered a verdict of found drowned, coupled with a recommendation that a telegraph line be established between Bishop's lighthouse and the shore. They express the opinion that if such communication had existed all on board the Schiller would have been saved. Officers Hillers and Polerman concur in this opinion. The remains of Mrs. Hermine Weste were privately buried. The number of bodies buried was thirty seven.

LONDON, May 11.—The weather was fair and the sea calm at Scilly Islands to-day. The Schiller could be approached without danger and boats plied between the wreck and shore all day. Many bodies were recovered and a considerable quantity of the cargo landed. Two divers left Land's End for the wreck.

Burial of the Drowned.

LONDON, May 11.—The interment of the dead at St. Mary's was most decorous and the coffins were strewn with flowers. But few of the bodies have been claimed by friends. The underwriters of the Hamburg company are sanguine of recovering considerable specie and merchandise. Among the bodies are the following: One with Boltzer on a ring, a lady with A. S. on linen, another with A. on linen, one with initials S. E. on chemise, another with a gold ring marked Colizo, and two without any distinctive marks, one with gold ring marked M. C. L. C. J. 1874, another with gold ring marked L. G. N. C., one with initials in right hand J. K., one body aged 21, and another of 12.

Birthday Congratulatory Address to the Pope.

LONDON, May 11.—The Pall Mall Gazette's Berlin dispatch says a Catholic messenger has left Mayence for Rome to present to the Pope an address congratulating him on the anniversary of his eighty third birthday, which occurs on the 13th inst. The address, which is said to have a million signatures attached to it, is couched in terms of the deepest devotion and allegiance.

British Parliament.

In the House of Commons, this afternoon Bourke, under foreign secretary, in response to an inquiry by Sir Charles Dilke as to the Continental position, said the government has received to-day the most satisfactory assurances from Berlin of the maintenance of peace in Europe.

LONDON, May 11.—In the House of Commons several peace preservation acts for Ireland were passed to a third reading.

International Copyright.

LONDON, May 10.—A deputation of authors waited on Disraeli to-day to express their own and obtain his views in regard to international copyright. The deputation consisted of Blanchard Jerrold, Tom Taylor, Charles Reade, Charles Dickens, Jr., George Augustus Sala, Charles Mackay, Miss Braddon, Mrs. Wood and many other well known literary persons. Edward Jenkins, author of "Ginx's Baby," addressed Disraeli on the part of the deputation. He pointed to the appropriation and mutilation of the works of British authors by book publishers in the United States and asked if some remedy could not be found for these grievances.

Disraeli replied that the subject had already come before the government on the question whether the revision of the copyright law in regard to dramas was desirable. The government would give the matter full attention and strive to remove the annoyances and vexations now existing, but it must have time to consider what method to adopt. He was of the opinion that a royal commission would be better than a committee of the House of Commons, because it would be more likely to be well acquainted with the subject.

Notable Death.

LONDON, May 11.—Rev. John King, of Ashley de la Lounde in Lincolnshire, is dead. King, under the assumed name of Lounde, was widely known as the owner of racing stock, notably of "Apology," winner of the Oaks, one thousand guineas and St. Leger stakes of 1874, and of "Holy Friar," one of the favorites for the Derby of 1875. "Holy Friar" becomes disqualified for running for the Derby and all bets on him are rendered void.

Amnesty to Insurrectionists.

MADRID, May 11.—The Intransigente prisoners who were engaged in the Cartagena insurrection, have been set free.

Still Another Marine Disaster.

LONDON, May 11.—The bark Coral Lynn from Darien for Troon is reported lost with her captain and five men.

Further of the Loss of the Cadiz.

LONDON, May 11.—Later advices swell the number of lives lost on the Cadiz. The Cadiz was out of her course in consequence of misreckoning. She struck a rock and sunk at once.

A Schooner Dismasted.

LONDON, May 11.—The schooner Pamlico, which put back dismasted while on the voyage from Queenstown to Chicago, arrived at Liverpool and has been docked.

Vessel for Portland loses her Mainmast.

The bark Ole Bull from Shields for Mollendo and Portland, Oregon, put into Rio Janeiro on the 10th of March with the loss of her mainmast.

The Turf.

At the York spring meeting to-day the handicap was won by Marivel's Freeman.

THE BOY MURDERER.

The Boston [illegible] of [illegible] 13th inst. says: A strange story is told in connection with the "Pomeroy" case. It is stated that last Saturday evening a man who represented himself to be James Ingalls, an officer in one of the institutions at Blackwell's or Randall's Island, New York, called on Mrs. Pomeroy and stated that a boy convict named Coo at one of the institutions in question had confessed, when at the point of death, the commission of the crime for which Jessie Pomeroy is under sentence of death. He stated further that he had given to Gov. Gaston important papers bearing on the case and was expecting others from New York. He was anxious that Mrs. Pomeroy should go to New York and hear the dying statement of the boy. While the man was urging Mrs. Pomeroy to go, Charley Pomeroy, her son, came in and upon hearing the story decided to go to New York. He left with the man about 9 o'clock and has not been seen since. Mrs. Pomeroy consulted with Jesse's counsel, Charles Robinson, Jr., as soon as possible, and Mr. Robinson ascertained that Gov. Gaston had not heard of the man, much less received papers from him. It is a rather mysterious affair if it be as stated, and additional suspicion is aroused by the man's injunction to Mrs. Pomeroy to keep the thing secret.

The Journal of Wednesday gives the sequel to the affair, which proves that the man Ingalls decoyed him to New York and succeeded under various pretenses in getting from him over $50 that his mother had given him for his expenses. The boy went to Randall's Island, and found that Ingalls was an imposter. Being then out of money, he succeeded in borrowing enough from former friends of the family to pay his fare to Boston, where he arrived on Monday evening.

A QUADRUPLE TRAGEDY.

TERRIBLE WORK OF A CRAZY LOVER—HE ROBS AND KILLS HIS GRANDMOTHER—ASSAILS THE FAMILY OF HIS BETROTHED, AND THEN BLOWS HIS HEAD OFF.

NEW YORK, April 23.—A letter to the Sun from Cuba, New York, gives details of a terrible quadruple tragedy in that region. For some months a young Irishman named James Lafferty, living in Rockville, Allegheny county, has tried to induce the daughter of a farmer, George Vannay, living a few miles from Rockville, to marry him. He was formerly in the employ of the farmer. The young girl repeatedly repulsed him. On Wednesday afternoon he went to Vannay's and entered the sitting room, where the young woman was at work. He renewed his proposal of marriage and was again refused. He took a newspaper from his pocket, and pointing to an article headed "Murdered for Love," told her to read it. She took the paper, and, as she was looking at it, Lafferty drew a revolver and fired. The ball entered the girl's cheek and lodged in the opposite side of her head. She started, screaming, toward the kitchen, when her mother came running into the room. Lafferty shot the mother, the ball entering near the right temple and lodged behind the ear. Both mother and daughter fell, and Lafferty ran from the house. Mr. Vannay, who was in the barn, reached the house just as Lafferty came out, with his pistol still in his hand. Vannay exclaimed, "What in the name of God is the matter?" and ran toward Lafferty. The latter fired at Vannay but missed him. He then placed the pistol to his own head and fired two shots, blowing the whole side of his head off and killing himself almost instantly. Vannay found his wife and daughter lying on the floor in pools of blood. He supposed they were dead, but they both spoke to him. He prepared to start for a doctor. As he was running to the barn to saddle a horse, Constable Gannon, of Rockville, came riding up, and hailing Vannay asked if he had seen Jim Lafferty, and went on to say that old Mrs. Lafferty, his grandmother, had been murdered in her house at Rockville, a sum of money she had in the house was gone, and it was supposed she had been killed by her grandson, who had been lurking around her house on Saturday. Vannay related the tragedy that had occurred at his house, and the officer rode on to summon a physician and give the alarm. Dr. Young of Cuba attended and extracted the ball from Mrs. Vannay's wound, but could not reach the one which had penetrated [illegible] tims are in a critical condition, but the doctor thinks they may recover. Dr. Young is also the coroner, and he took charge of the body of the murderer and had it interred in a field near the scene of the tragedy. Old Mrs. Lafferty was found on Tuesday. There had been no stir about the house since Saturday, and it was visited by some neighbors, who supposed the old lady was sick. The door was not locked, and Mrs. Lafferty lay across the bed. Evidences of a struggle were visible in the room, and her clothes were badly torn. Her face was black and blue, and around her neck were dark blue marks, as though made by the fingers of the person with whom she had been struggling. An examination showed that death resulted from strangulation. The old lady had about one hundred dollars that she had laid by to pay her funeral expenses. The box in which she kept it was broken open and the money gone. There is no doubt in the neighborhood that she was murdered and robbed by her grandson.

ANIMATED BUTTER.—A grocer in Ottawa, Canada, was made the recipient of a valuable present one day lately. A young woman entered his store offering butter for sale. He informed her that he had a sufficient quantity and did not wish to buy any. The woman asked permission to leave her basket in the store while she went to see a friend. She left, promising to return in ten minutes for her property. She did not return, and a few minutes later sounds attracted his attention, and on tracing them to their source, he found that they came from the basket of butter. He raised the cloth, which covered the basket, and discovered a baby. The woman did not return to claim her property.

[illegible] TERRITORIES.

There are five or six applicants for the marshalship of Washington Territory. May the best win.

The May term of the district court, Judge Wingard presiding, convened at Walla Walla last Monday.

The Walla Walla Statesman says the crickets are appearing at various points along the foot of the Blue Mountains, but not in alarming numbers.

During the eight days ending last Saturday the exports of lumber from the Tacoma mill were 2,101,000 feet, comprising 1,858,000 feet of boards and 1,460,000 laths.

The parties from Tacoma who were up to the coal regions last week, have all returned, and their reports, in their favorable character, entirely confirm those previously in circulation.

Having received the appointment, Mr. H. H. Pitts, of Olympia, on Saturday last was given the custody and became the keeper of the new Territorial penitentiary on McNeil island.

Judge Smith learns from a private letter from Camas valley, Idaho, that from 1,000 head of sheep last fall, he now has only 380. Too much snow and no feed was what was the matter. He has not heard from his cattle yet.

The Walla Walla Statesman of last Saturday says: The soaking rains that fell on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week have been a perfect God send to the farmers of this valley, and render it certain that the grain crop for this year will be greatly in excess of any previous season. A much larger acreage than usual has been brought under cultivation, and all that was required to insure a large crop was a good soaking rain, and in this matter Providence has favored us. The fact that the crops in California are a failure, makes it certain that there will be an active demand for breadstuffs the coming fall, and with this activity our farmers may calculate upon 80 or 90 cents a bushel for their wheat.

The annual letting of contracts for supplies for Fort Walla Walla was completed Thursday last, and certainly the figures show that the Government is not to be unduly taxed. Charles Russell received the majority of the lettings. We give his figures: Timothy hay, 750 tons divided in equal parts as follows: $9 90, $10 90, $11 90, $12 90—all currency. The bids for hay last year were $14 90; oats, per 100 lbs., 84 cents; barley, per 100 lbs., 72 cents; beef, $2 2[illegible] per 100 lbs. Of the wood contract, Charles Russell furnishes 1,000 cords cottonwood at $5 75; 800 cords mountain wood, $5 50, and 600 cords hardwood, $8 40. M. A. Carr, 2,000 cords soft wood, $5 75, and 600 cords hard wood, $7 50. James Jones, 200 cords hard wood, $7 89, and 2,300 cords soft wood, $5 60. The above figures are extremely low, and leave the contractors a very small margin for profit, says the Statesman.

THE WESTERN CROPS.

REPORTS FROM VARIOUS POINTS IN THE NORTHWEST.

CHICAGO, April 23.—The Inter-Ocean to-morrow will publish reports from nearly four hundred towns in the Northwest, giving an account of the condition of the crops. A summary of the reports shows that in Missouri wheat and oats are badly eaten by grasshoppers, and fears are entertained that in the large breadth planted much grain will be destroyed by them. Fruit is uninjured. In Wisconsin winter wheat is slightly injured, spring wheat is just planting, and fruit is somewhat injured. In Indiana wheat has been badly injured by cold weather. Rye and barley will also be short crops. Oats will not yield more than half a crop, and the fruit crop will be almost a total failure. Corn planting is delayed on account of the frost. In Kansas the season has been favorable, and the large areas of wheat and oats sown are in fine condition. In Michigan the season is backward. Wheat has been badly injured by frost, and in many localities farmers are turning it out. Oats and corn, as well as most of the small fruits, are killed. In Nebraska the prospects for all grains and fruits are flattering. In Minnesota the season is backward. The average breadth of the spring wheat is sown. The winter wheat is uninjured, and small fruits promise well. In Iowa little more than the average amount of spring wheat is sown and will yield well, but little winter wheat is sown, and that is uninjured. Oats and barley are badly injured. Fruits will be an average crop. In Illinois the prospects for winter wheat are very discouraging. Where large areas are usually sown there will not be over a half crop. Many wheat fields are being ploughed for corn. Spring wheat and oats are damaged, also rye and barley. Fruits are generally destroyed.

LONG WORDS.—"Rob," said Tom, "which is the most dangerous word to pronounce in the English language?"

"Don't know," said Rob, "unless it's a swearing word."

"Pooh!" said Tom, "it's stumbled, because you are sure to get a tumble between the first and last letter."

"Ha! ha!" said Rob. "Now I've one for you. I found it one day in the paper. Which is the longest word in the English language?"

"Valetudinarianism," said Tom, promptly.

"No, sir, it's smiles, because there's a whole mile between the first and last letter."

"Ho! ho!" cried Tom, "that's nothing. I know a word that has over three miles between its beginning and ending."

"What's that?" asked Rob, faintly.

"Beleaguered," said Tom.

THE CENTENNIAL CELEBRATIONS.

The series of centennial celebrations now holding in the East, beginning with Concord, and continuing from time to time as the anniversaries of the battles of the Revolution arrive, will have a beneficial effect in stirring up the sense of nationality in the people and educating them to a higher love of country. Among the influences that bind a people to their country, there are none more decided and unvarying than the stories historic and traditional of heroism in its defense by preceding generations. The traditions of a people respecting their struggles and sacrifices form the basis of their national literature and the rallying cry of their subsequent conflicts.

But these centennial celebrations of the Revolutionary war will have another beneficial effect, in that they will tend to draw away the minds of Americans from the late strife between themselves, and reunite them in the bond of a common origin and history. It will tend to desectionalize—to coin a word for the occasion—and to renationalize the sentiment of patriotism among American citizens. It will make us less citizens of the South, or of the North, of the Pacific Coast, or of New England, and more citizens of the United States of America. And that is a great service to this country just now. The rule of the Romans to permit no celebration of a victory won in domestic strife, but rather to let all such struggles pass out of memory as quickly as possible, while a foreign victory was celebrated with great pomp and with general festivities, would be no bad rule, for us Americans to copy. Bravery and heroism belong to no favored sections of the Republic. Chivalry is the peculiar heritage of no geographical division. Conscientious devotion to principle belongs not to one State. Americans, all from a common source or common sources, in the European "storehouse of nations," possess the same qualities of valor and patriotism, and have in them in the same general way the material of which martyrs are made. They should cultivate the national and repress the sectional development of the love of country. They should forget that they have been or could have been enemies of each other, and remember only that they form a great nation of freemen, and that to them has been reserved the opportunity to establish, develop and maintain popular government on a scale greatly exceeding in magnificent proportions the grandest dreams of those who first conceived the thought of an American Republic. And they should hold the privilege a sacred thing, to be used only in promoting the greatest happiness of all classes, and producing the highest and best civilization of which the country and the age are capable.

OREGON SHIPBUILDING.

The observations of those who are versed in the business of shipbuilding, as far as such observations have extended in Oregon, have led to the expression of but one opinion on the question, and that is, that here are found an aggregation of as many natural advantages for the establishment and successful carrying on of this important branch of commercial industry as any part of the United States. As mentioned a few days ago, the matter is now to be put to a practical test in a direction that cannot fail to attract increased attention to Oregon's resources for the construction of first-class sea-going vessels of any class. We allude to the construction of the iron revenue cutter at the Albina Ironworks, opposite our city. The San Francisco Alta congratulates Oregon in securing this contract, and says:

> We confess, with some mortification, that California cannot enter into competition in that line. We have an abundance of iron ore, but no smelting works, as our sister State has. But we have not heretofore heard that she had either a puddling-furnace or a rolling mill, both of which are necessary in building iron ships. They can use neither pig metal nor blooms, as they come from the furnace which converts them from the cast into wrought metal. This contract will then give to Oregon a puddling furnace and a rolling mill, as well as a shipyard. So much the better for Wallamet.

The successful launching of this vessel will mark an era that will long be remembered in Oregon's commercial history and give her a place and name she has not hitherto had among the important members of the Union. The gentlemen who secured the contract at a very considerable expenditure of labor and money deserve the commendation which all who desire our State to grow and flourish will accord them.

THREE STEAMERS BURNED AT ONE TIME.

A New Orleans dispatch to the Philadelphia Times, dated April 23 says:

About 4 P. M. to-day a fire broke out in the blacksmith shop of the steamboat John Kyle, which was lying at the foot of Poydras street. The Kyle lay between Jessie Taylor, below, and Exporter above. The Bodman lay above and next to the Exporter. Soon after the alarm was given the tug-boat [illegible] came up and commenced throwing water on the burning vessel, but without effect. Captain Hutchinson, of the Kyle, was standing on the front deck when the fire broke out. He promptly notified all on board to leave, as it was apparent from the first that the boat could not be saved. Captain Hutchinson thinks everyone on the Kyle was saved. William Brown, the chief clerk, who opened the safe and took out the money and papers, was the last to leave the Kyle, which had in the meantime been set adrift. In escaping, he was enveloped in the flames and severely, if not dangerously, burnt.

Two steamers, the Bodman and the Exporter, lying near the Kyle, caught fire, and the three burning vessels drifted together into the stream, where they were soon burned to the water's edge. Many persons who had gone on the Exporter and Bodman as spectators were on board when the boats drifted into the stream, and had to jump overboard. Some of them were rescued, but a larger number are believed to have been lost. The number lost is estimated at from twenty- to one hundred. There was an excursion party from Cincinnati or Pittsburgh, many of whom, it is feared, are lost. The Bodman arrived this morning and had discharged most of her cargo. The Exporter was to have left this evening, and had about four hundred tons of freight on board, all of which was lost.

The Prescott Miner says: "We chanced to be in C. P. Head & Co's store on Monday evening when S. O. Frederick, of the Senator mine, came walking in with a camp-kettle nearly full of retorted bullion, being a little curious to know how much there was, we pressed the subject a little further and found by the scales that there were 528 ozs., or nearly $8,000. This we are told is out of less than 200 tons of rock, unassorted as it came from the mine."

THE TOWN MEETING.

In the course of his address at the Centennial celebration at Concord, George William Curtis thus spoke of the New England town meetings:

> But the true glory of Concord, as of all New England towns, was the town-meeting, the nursery of American Independence. When the revolution began, of the 8,000,000 of people then living in Old England, only 160,000 were voters, while in New England the great mass of free male adults were electors. And they had been so from the landing at Plymouth. Here in the wilderness the settlers were forced to govern themselves. They could not constantly refer and appeal to another authority twenty miles away through the woods. Every day brought its duty that must be done before sunset. Roads must be made, schools built, young men trained to arms against the savages and the wild-cat, taxes must be laid and collected for all common purposes, preaching must be maintained, and who could know the time, the means, and the necessity so well as the community itself. Thus each town was a little and a perfect republic, as solitary and secluded in the New England wilderness as the Swiss cantons among the Alps. No other practicable human institution has been devised or conceived to secure the just ends of local government so felicitous as the town meeting. It brought together the rich and the poor, the good and the bad, and gave character, eloquence and natural leadership full and free play. It enabled superior experience and sagacity to govern, and virtue and intelligence alone are rulers by Divine right. The Tories called the resolution for the committee of correspondence the source of the rebellion; but it was only a correspondence of town meetings. From that correspondence came the confederation of the Colonies. Out of that arose the closer majestic union of the constitution, the greater phenix born from the ashes of the lesser, and the national power and prosperity to-day rest securely only upon the foundation of the primary meeting. That is where the duty of the citizens begins. Neglect of that is disloyalty to liberty. No contrivance will supply its place, no excuse absolve the neglect.

CITY.

MINING MATTERS.—Mr. John Ry[illegible] has mined quite extensively in Ca[illegible] Idaho and British Columbia since 18[illegible] on us yesterday. He has just com[illegible] from Mt. Idaho and Elk City, Idah[illegible] he has been mining for some time, an[illegible] the prospects of any extensive outcom[illegible] mines in that section the present seaso[illegible] very promising, but he has no do[illegible] thorough prospecting would probably [illegible] some good paying quartz mines in [illegible] gion. The Warrens diggings as yet [illegible] ing but little, though Mr. Leland and [illegible] have their machinery up and will ma[illegible] at an early day, as they have some [illegible] ready out. Mr. Ryan thinks the [illegible] Warrens will pay pretty well, but th[illegible] wardness of the stockholders in the co[illegible] in paying assessments has retarded t[illegible] and somewhat discouraged Mr. Lelan[illegible] has made very strong efforts to get thi[illegible] active operation. Mr. Ryan will st[illegible] day or two for Cariboo, B. C., a count[illegible] which he is familiar, on a prospectin[illegible] and promises to let us know if he stri[illegible] bonanza up there, and to send us a sl[illegible]

AN UNAPPRECIATIVE AUDITOR.—Fro[illegible] change it seems that those itinerati[illegible] and humbugs, the Vieuxtemps Brothe[illegible] got into difficulty down in California[illegible] concert at Cambria, San Louis Obispo [illegible] recently, a scene occurred which [illegible] "down in the bills." In the midst of [illegible] their songs, a drunken, rowdy and de[illegible] named Bill Smith made his appearanc[illegible] ing in showman Belknap, with face blo[illegible] and threw him upon the stage, upsett[illegible] kerosene lamp and breaking it, wh[illegible] Vieuxtemps passed over to put out th[illegible] and ordered the rowdies out or [illegible] platform. As he stooped to extingu[illegible] burning fluid Smith struck him a seve[illegible] with a heavy eight-inch revolver, cock[illegible] cut a gash in Vieuxtemps' head two [illegible] long, laying it open to the skull. As [illegible] seemed about to finish by shooting, Jo[illegible] sprung upon him and seized the pisto[illegible] Dick Merrill, the constable, came to h[illegible] ance, and they disarmed him. A war[illegible] issued for his arrest next morning, bu[illegible] left town.

CABIN TORN AWAY.—During Mond[illegible] yesterday a number of men were eng[illegible] tearing away all that remained of the [illegible] the steamer Senator. Nothing at pr[illegible] mains in sight but the rear end of the [illegible] just in front of the wheel, and the [illegible] portion of the hull, where it lies u[illegible] bank. The object of the company in [illegible] the cabin to be removed, is to save a[illegible] tions as may be of use, and also to ligh[illegible] rear end of the boat, so that the ma[illegible] can be taken out at the earliest pra[illegible] day. All the steam fittings, pipes, [illegible] etc., are good as new, and can be [illegible] years to come.

JUVENILE OFFENDERS.—Yesterday a[illegible] three boys, named respectively Wm. [illegible] John Dougherty, and Luther Weinst[illegible] arrested charged with stealing sundry [illegible] from a grocery store on Washington [illegible] These juvenile culprits were commi[illegible] jail, and an examination of the case wil[illegible] this morning. A few days ago, we lea[illegible] these same boys entered a man's garde[illegible] resides on Salmon street, and in a mos[illegible] cious manner wantonly destroyed all t[illegible] etables, stamping the tender ones dow[illegible] tearing others out by the roots. These [illegible] same offenders who were severely p[illegible] some time ago for shooting pigeons.

ARRESTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.—M[illegible] V. Smith, who was engineer on bo[illegible] steamer Senator at the time of the ex[illegible] was arrested yesterday on a charge [illegible] slaughter. It is alleged that through [illegible] of experience, incompetency or crimi[illegible] ligence the explosion occurred, by w[illegible] which a number of persons lost th[illegible] After being arrested Smith was taken [illegible] Justice Reilly. On motion of counsel [illegible] was continued until to-day, when a [illegible] nary examination of the case will [illegible] Meantime Smith was admitted to ba[illegible] sum of $1,000 for his appearance to-[illegible]

CITY.

MINING MATTERS.—Mr John Ryan who has mined quite extensively in California, Idaho and British Columbia since 1860 called on us yesterday He has just come down from Mt. Idaho and Elk City Idaho where he has been mining for some time and reports the prospects of any extensive outcome of the mines in that section the present season as not very promising but he has no doubt that thorough prospecting would probably develop some good paying quartz mines in that region The Warrens diggings as yet are paying but little though Mr Leland and his son have their machinery up and will make a run at an early day, as they have some rock already out. Mr Ryan thinks the rock at Warrens will pay pretty well but the backwardness of the stockholders in the company in paying assessments has retarded the work and somewhat discouraged Mr Leland, who has made very strong efforts to get things into active operation. Mr Ryan will start in a day or two for Cariboo B C, a country with which he is familiar, on a prospecting tour and promises to let us know if he strikes any bonanza up there and to send us a slice.

AN UNAPPRECIATIVE AUDITOR.—From an exchange it seems that those itinerating bills and humbugs, the Vieuxtemps Brothers have got into difficulty down in California At a concert at Cambria, San Louis Obispo county recently a scene occurred which was not down in the bills In the midst of one of the songs a drunken rowdy and desperado named Bill Smith made his appearance leading in showman Belknap, with face blackened and threw him upon the stage upsetting the kerosene lamp and breaking it when Otto Vieuxtemps passed over to put out the flame and ordered the rowdies out or off the platform. As he stooped to extinguish the burning fluid Smith struck him a severe blow with a heavy eight-inch revolver cocked It cut a gash in Vieuxtemps' head two inches long, laying it open to the skull As Smith seemed about to finish by shooting, Job Apsey sprung upon him and seized the pistol when Dick Merrill, the constable came to his assistance, and they disarmed him A warrant was issued for his arrest next morning, but he had left town.

CABIN TORN AWAY.—During Monday and yesterday a number of men were engaged in tearing away all that remained of the cabin of the steamer Senator. Nothing at present remains in sight but the rear end of the cabin just in front of the wheel and the forward portion of the hull, where it lies upon the bank. The object of the company in causing the cabin to be removed, is to save such portions as may be of use, and also to lighten the rear end of the boat, so that the machinery can be taken out at the earliest practicable day. All the steam fittings, pipes engines etc are good as new, and can be used for years to come.

JUVENILE OFFENDERS.—Yesterday afternoon three boys, named respectively Wm Riddle, John Dougherty, and Luther Westcott were arrested charged with stealing sundry articles from a grocery store on Washington street. These juvenile culprits were committed to jail, and an examination of the case will be had this morning. A few days ago we learn that these same boys entered a man s garden who resides on Salmon street and in a most malicious manner wantonly destroyed all the vegetables stamping the tender ones down and tearing others out by the roots These are the same offenders who were severely punished some time ago for shooting pigeons.

ARRESTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.—Mr John V. Smith, who was engineer on board the steamer Senator at the time of the explosion, was arrested yesterday on a charge of manslaughter. It is alleged that through his want of experience, incompetency or criminal negligence the explosion occurred by reason of which a number of persons lost their lives. After being arrested Smith was taken before Justice Reilly On motion of counsel the case was continued until to-day, when a preliminary examination of the case will be had Meantime Smith was admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance to-day.

GRAND REUNION.—To-day, in accordance with orders recently issued from the department at Washington, a grand reunion will be held at Chicago by the Grand Army of the Republic This reunion will be attended by delegations from many of the posts throughout the States, and is expected to be a grand affair The present will be the ninth reunion which has been celebrated. We suggest that the display of bunting would be very appropriate to-day.

BUOY DEPOT.—In a few days Gen Michler will go down to Astoria and in conjunction with Lieut Kempff select a location for a buoy depot in this district. If a suitable piece of ground can be obtained at Astoria and purchased at reasonable figures the depot will be erected at that point Failing to obtain a suitable piece of land for the purpose mentioned, the depot will be constructed at some point further down the river—probably at Fort Canby

EXPLOSION OF THE STEAMER "GAZELLE."

The recent disastrous explosion which occurred last week on board the ill fated steamer Senator has brought vividly back to the minds of old residents of this State and city the numerous terrible scenes and incidents connected with the blowing up of the steamboat Gazelle The explosion of that steamer took place at Canemah—just above Oregon City at 7 o clock on the morning of April 8th 1854 resulting in the instant death of nineteen persons and the maiming of over twenty five From the WEEKLY OREGONIAN of April 15th 1854 we obtain the following account of the frightful casualty

"It seems to be the settled opinion of every body that this melancholy accident which caused the most intense anguish in the hearts of our citizens and spread a gloom over the entire community was attributable to the reckless carelessness or total incompetency of the engineer It appears that the chief engineer had run the Gazelle across the river and stopped alongside of the steamer Wallamet for a few moments to take on some freight She was then run a few rods further up to the wharf boat where she was stopped Some the chief engineer left the steamer and went on board the wharf boat when the explosion immediately took place and twenty four human beings were in a moment hurried into eternity besides maiming some twenty others and destroying a large amount of property A correspondent writing to the Oregon Statesman under date of April 18th 1854 says

The appearance of the wreck is truly dreadful The deck swept of partitions, furniture and machinery from stem to stern, blowing the end of the cabin out entirely and the upper deck entirely away as far back as the wheel house—hoisting the captain's room and clerk's office from the deck moving it astern some two feet The amount of rubbish on deck is very great No part of the boilers except the head of one of them has been found, and it is said that a portion of one of them, and the smoke pipe were seen in the air, thrown nearly across the river But the details I am utterly incapacitated to give, by the horror of the truly terrible scene Mutilated bodies, cries of terror and pain and pieces of human bodies surrounded the survivors on every side Some were blown into the water others covered with the rubbish from the boat, and some laying uncovered on the deck, stunned and helpless But words are incapable of conveying a true understanding of the horrid spectacle

The following persons were instantly killed by the explosion

David Page of San Francisco David Woodhull, of Michigan Rev J P Miller of Albany, John Blummer Jos Hunt of Michigan Michael Hatch John Daley John Clemmens David Fuller of Portland C Woodsworth of Milwaukie Judge Birch Jas White of Salem John K. Miller, J M Fudge Mr Morgan, Samuel Hill of Albany Daniel Lowe a Spanish boy (name unknown) Mr Blanchet Michael McGee Mr Hunt

During the inquest which was held over the bodies of those who lost their lives by reason of the catastrophe the following persons served as jurors

John B Preston, Wells Lake Wm C Dement, Amory Holbrook Archibald McKinley Thomas Johnson The late Dr Forbes Barclay officiated as coroner

Practice versus Theory.

The theory of disease accepted by physicians is, that symptoms are merely sympathetic indications of its existence and have in most instances little or nothing to do with fixing its locality Their practice however is diametrically opposed to their theory for they administer medicines which affect symptoms only The remarkable cures of dyspepsia, sick headache constipation rheumatism general debility urinary and kidney troubles and malarial fevers wrought by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters could never have been accomplished by remedies which addressed themselves merely to the removal of any one of the manifold and complicated symptoms to which those maladies give rise Acting, as the Bitters do directly upon the stomach and tributary organs, overcoming their irregularities and endowing them with renewed vigor, they control as it were, the springs of vitality purifying and giving them fresh impetus and dispersing all those harassing symptoms which proceeded from their misdirection or contamination

Justice at Last.

The public were far in advance of the medical profession in recognizing HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR as a specific for consumption, coughs and colds but at last the Faculty are doing justice to the great antagonist and conqueror of pulmonary disease The country druggists generally report that the local physicians are prescribing it in preference to all the old pulmonics and that the result is an immense increase in the percentage of cures

AN INDIAN REVOLT.

OUTBREAK OF CHEYENNE PRISONERS AND DEFEAT OF THE TROOPS.

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.), April 14.—It transpires now that the revolt of Indian prisoners at Cheyenne Agency, I. T., was more general and determined than at first reported in official telegrams. Gen. Neil informed the commanding officer of the Department that the Indians, upon their surrender, turned over their firearms to the Government authorities; but his information on this point seems to have been at fault. The crafty red-skins evidently

OUTWITTED THE GENERAL

By burying their best guns in the sand, and handing over to the soldiers only their old and unserviceable muskets. Moreover, the Indian rush to the sand-hills was not simply an impulsive stampede, but rather the precise execution of a preconcerted plot to abandon the Agency, unearth their weapons, and go on the war-path.

For some time the Cheyennes have suspected that the Government intended to deal out

A FEARFUL RETRIBUTION

For the massacre of the Germain family, and consequently witnessed with apprehension every attempt to identify the immediate perpetrators or ringleaders of that crime. Whenever an Indian was put in irons, or singled out from the main body of his fellows as an object of special supervision, mutterings of discontent were heard from his companions. The signal for the revolt was given when the savages saw one of their warriors shot down for attempting to escape from the guards, who were in the act of putting him in irons. Three shots in quick succession from the camp of the hostile Cheyennes, told the Indians to break away from their captors. The movement was

SIMULTANEOUS THROUGHOUT THE CAMP.

There was no demoralization or confusion. They were not fugitives fleeing from real or imagined peril, for they didn't scatter here and there over the plains, each one seeking to make sure of his own escape. They assembled with the least possible delay at their chosen rendezvous, occupying a position and giving battle with every advantage of location in their favor. The troops, believing that the Indians were unarmed, charged recklessly through the deep sand; but, instead of meeting a defenceless foe, fell under the range of deadly rifles. Three times the soldiers charged, and

THREE TIMES THEY WERE REPULSED.

The official report of the battle says the troops—consisting of four companies of the Sixth Cavalry, under command of General Neil in person—lost six seriously and ten slightly wounded. Private letters from the Agency say that the loss was much greater than that. It is known that the troops were badly whipped, although they fought bravely, and against great odds.

A BAD BLUNDER

Has been committed; but, at this time, it it difficult to fix the responsibility where it rightly belongs. The loss of the gallant soldiers who fell in the charge, deplorable as it may be, is not the worst feature of the blunder. The Indians have gone on the war-path again, and there is danger that all the good results of last year's campaign under General Miles,

HAVE BEEN LOST

By one stupid blunder, in managing the prisoners.

It is well known that Congress made an appropriation of $300,000 to subsist the Indian prisoners at Fort Leavenworth. The appropriation was secured by the immediate request of the President, who had listened to the counsels of Generals Sherman, Sheridan and Pope, and consented to a change of policy to the extent of transferring the hostile Indians to the care of the military authorities. After the money was appropriated, Secretary Delano ordered the transfer of the Indians to their respective Agencies, reserving for military control only those who had been identified as the murderers of the Germain family. The $300,000 voted to feed and clothe the prisoners at Fort Leavenworth has been expended in the purchase of beef at the frontier Agencies, where supplies accumulated during all the months of last year that the warriors were absent on the war-path.

PRIDE AND GRIEF.

It was just after the funeral. The bereaved and subdued widow enveloped in millinery gloom was seated in the sitting-room with a few sympathizing friends. There was that constrained look, so peculiar to the occasion, observable on every countenance. The widow sighed.

"How do you feel, my dear?" observed her sister.

"Oh, I don't know," said the poor woman, with difficulty restraining her tears. "But I hope everything passed off well?"

"Indeed it did," said all the ladies.

"It was as large and respectable a funeral as I have seen this winter," said the sister, looking around upon the others.

"Yes, it was," said the lady from the next door. "I was saying to Mrs. Slocum, only ten minutes ago, that the attendance could not have been better—the bad going considered."

"Did you see the Taylors?" asked the widow, faintly looking at her sister. "They go so rarely to funerals that I was quite surprised to see them here."

"Oh, yes; the Taylors were all here," replied the sympathising sister. "As you say, they go but little; they are so exclusive."

"I thought I saw the Curtiss's also," suggested the bereaved woman, droopingly.

"Oh, yes," chimed in several. "They came in their own carriage too," said the sister, animatedly. "And then there were the Randalls and the Van Rensslears. Mrs. Van Rensslear had her cousin from the city with her. And Mrs. Randall wore a very heavy black silk, which I am sure was quite new. Did you see Colonel Haywood and his daughters, love?"

"I thought I saw them but I wasn't sure. They were here then, were they?"

"Yes, indeed," said they all again, and the lady who lived across the way observed—

"The Colonel was very sociable and inquired most kindly about you and the sickness of your husband."

The widow smiled faintly. She was gratified by the interest shown by the Colonel.

The friends now arose to go, each bidding her good-by, and expressing the hope that she would be calm. Her sister bowed them out. When she returned, she said:

"You can see, my love, what the neighbors think of it. I wouldn't have had anything unfortunate happened for a good deal. But nothing did. The arrangements couldn't have been better."

"I think some of the people in the neighborhood must have been surprised to see so many of the uptown people here," suggested the afflicted woman, trying to look hopeful.

"You may be quite sure of that," asserted the sister. "I could see that plain enough by their looks."

"Well, I am glad there is no occasion for talk," said the widow, smoothing the skirt of her dress.

And after that the boys took the chairs home, and the house was put in order.—Danbury News.

It is doubtful whether the immense roses seen in some of the spring bonnets can be found in nature. The idea of a rose about eight inches in diameter is rather ridiculous. And the hues and colors of these imaginary flowers are so gaudy! Such impossible yellow, and such a peculiar pink! But, then, fashion is often ridiculous and peculiar.

There are some continuing signs of activity in the local money market, but transactions have somewhat slackened up to-day. At no time during the season has the demand on mercantile account been large, and the call from grain and produce dealers vacillates with the animation or dullness in the movements of those commodities. Real estate is still offering for loans, though less frequently than a few weeks ago.

There is no diminution in the volume of business in the general merchandise market, and the distribution of goods in the various channels is quite fair. The attendance of buyers from the interior is not large, but business in the way of mail orders is about of the same character as last week. The market for dry goods shows a good degree of life,—the demand being largely on order account and for piecing out local stocks. There is a little less animation in fancy and millinery goods, while staple articles are firmly held and transactions fair as to volume. Leading lines of groceries, though mostly in demand to fill up broken stocks, are enjoying a tolerably active trade and prices are firm. The bark Mattie Macleay from Honolulu, is discharging a cargo of Sandwich Island products, such as sugars, coffees, etc., which her consignees are offering to the trade on favorable terms. Boots, shoes and clothing are moving with a fair degree of life,—the demand being largely if not mostly on order account.

Hop Culture and Curing.

The increasing importance of the business of producing and handling of this commodity on the Pacific coast is worthy some attention, and the superior quality of the article raised in Oregon, Washington Territory and California is being recognized in the world's markets. We are in receipt of a circular from the house of Philip Wolf & Co., in which some suggestions are made which may prove of advantage to producers. Admitting that we are but beginners in the business of hop culture, it cannot be gainsaid that the soil and climate of some portions of our coast are admirably adapted to the raising of hops, and equal to the most favored sections of Europe, it must be admitted that too little attention has been paid by our growers to the curing and handling of the plant. It is not sufficient that our yards show excellent vines, that they are of healthy growth, producing rich tops and fragrant lupulin, but after careful picking, which should be attended to in proper divisions and when just ripe, the utmost attention should be paid to curing, cooling and packing.

Farmers with little or no experience will often venture into the business of raising hops, knowing but little about their culture and much less of the extreme attention and care that they require. To all such new beginners our advice goes to try the experiment in a very limited way, and only after sufficient experience is gathered as to the adaptability of soil and the perfect manner of drying and curing, is it advisable to set out larger yards.

The entire Pacific coast produced, during last season, close on 6,000 bales of 200 lbs each of hops, of which over one-half was shipped direct to New York, 500 to other Eastern cities, and about 200 bales found their way direct to England, leaving in the neighborhood of 1,200 bales for the consumption on this coast. Fully one-third of the hops produced here, we regret to say, were found to be in very inferior condition, long even before they reached the consumers.

Wheat Markets Abroad.

The supplies of wheat at most all the grain centers from which we are able to get any figures seem to be less, in some markets, than at the same date last year, a fact which will have its effect on the market unless it be balanced by prospects of full crops, or the excessive amount in transit. By examination of carefully prepared reports we find that on the 8th of April 1875, exclusive of steamer shipments from American Atlantic ports and sail and steamer shipments from the Baltic, were 6,838,215 bushels, against 5,815,000 bushels at the corresponding date in 1874. The English markets are all, without important exceptions, holding less stocks than usual, and the movements from the Atlantic seaboard for the United Kingdom are now far below what they were at the corresponding date in 1874. For instance, the receipts of wheat at the ports of Chicago, Milwaukee, Toledo, Detroit, Cleveland and Duluth from January 1st to April 24th, in the years indicated:

| | 1875. | 1874. | 1873. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Wheat, bushels | 11,596,057 | 19,625,001 | 7,035,608 |

The following shows the aggregate shipments of flour and grain from the ports of Chicago, Milwaukee, Toledo and Duluth by lake and rail, from Jan. 1st to April 24th, in the years indicated:

| | 1875. | 1874. | 1873. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Flour, barrels | 1,456,261 | 2,041,685 | 1,288,225 |
| Wheat, bushels | 7,182,549 | 11,514,709 | 2,519,780 |

A private letter from Liverpool, dated April 15th, says:

"We quote No. 1 spring here to-day at 9s 2d; No. 2 at 8s 8d to 8s 10d; the former can't now be laid down to sell here under 9s 6d to 9s 7d, and the No. 2 at 9s to 9s 2d. Greek-London houses have been selling wheat forward at 2s under spot prices; this would seem to indicate a superabundance of Black Sea and Russian produce later on; but whether a considerable quantity will be distributed to the south of France, Spain and Portugal remains to be seen. In any case, there seems to be no lack in any quarter yet; and should nothing occur on your side to interfere seriously with wheat prospects, we do not look for higher prices in the immediate future. The weather here has been fine, but cold for the season. Vegetation has made little progress, and the pastures are almost as bare as in midwinter, and until we have some warm rainy weather, seem likely to remain so."

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamer Gussie Telfair, for Victoria, will sail to-morrow evening.

The bark Mattie Macleay is discharging her cargo, and will soon be ready to receive her outward freight. She is up for Honolulu.

Domestic Produce.

The week so far has developed no new or important features in this branch of trade. The wheat market is still as quiet as ever, only an occasional lot being offered, and buyers, though paying full prices, say $1 50@1 55 per cental, are apparently easy as to the future and are urging the market but little. No important arrival in this department is anticipated until the next harvest. In oats there are still some lots offering in the markets, and buyers who pay 65 cents per bushel are getting a few hundred bushels. Quotations vary according to buyers' wants and ideas, 60a65 cents, including sacks, being the range. A car load was offered to-day at 64 cents. Bacon is in fair supply at a firm figure, side meats of choice quality being in good demand at 12 cents ℔ lb; shoulders 8@9c, and hams 14a15c. Lard is in good request at 15a16c, and the supply of Oregon is not excessive. Eggs are held at 18 cents per dozen and in full supply. Other products are without change in quotations. Except flour and grain, shipments are very dull and outward-bound coasters are offered but little freight.

HOMES FOR SALE

STRANGER, IF YOU MEAN "BIZ," HAVE A little money and are on the work, we're the identical chaps you have traveled the "plains across" to see. When you say "Home" you strike our strong weakness. Right here, within the sound of the church bells, we have good land for from $35 to $100 per acre. Remember this is within 3 to 4 miles of the Metropolis of Oregon, where people wear store clothes, observe the Sabbath, ride on steamboats and railroads, have spelling schools, with a soil and climate not excelled for vegetables, fruits, cereals, hops, and "fixings," with a cash market, and no fear of drought, curculio, grasshoppers or crickets; no "Spanish grants" to rob you; where we have telegraphic communication with Europe, Asia, Africa and Plymouth Church; where ministers don't have to take summer vacations, for we've got a Brooklyn of our own; and where a Real Estate Agent is given a "wide berth." Yes, if this suits you, and you want to raise fruits, and vegetables, and chickens, and make butter, and WORK, we can fill the bill. True, they are in the rough; but WILL, and MUSCLE, and BRAINS will make Homes of them in the fullest sense. So come right along.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues.—Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, than can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, by long and extensive use has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
